eco Grand Prix - Season finished

NÜRBURGRING 2020

The news about the decision of the german government in November to impose a lockdown as a breakwater was only very pleasing at first, we hoped to be able to start in December with much lower Covid numbers.

However, the health department of the Nürburgring region has now taken the position not to process any more applications and is the opinion that probably no events will be permitted at the Nürburgring until mid-December.

At the end of the week, the Nürburgring has sent us a very nice e-mail expressing their regret, but also giving us the opportunity to keep the date in March.

Also the race track in Most has closed due to the current situation and will probably not open again this year.

The circuit in Norway (Rudskogen) has also declined for 2021 so that the race at Nürburgring will still be the next race. It will be the first of the 2021 season and the date is fixed.

We will write automotive history with a few months delay.

WINNER of the 2020 season

Klaus Schäfer has agreed to hand over the winner’s trophy to the winner of the 2020 season. We will celebrate the cup handover at the beginning of the 2021 race at the Nürburgring.

For the first time in history of the eco Grand Prix we have not only one winner but a complete team at the podium! Also place 2 and 3 are occupied by the complete teams.

The result of the first and only race of the 2020 season is therefore the ranking of the season: <https://ecograndprix.com/season-2020/schauinsland>

Refund of all participation fees

At this point we would like to thank all those who had already transferred the entry fees for the Nürburgring.

For organisational reasons we cannot carry over the entry fees into the next year, because from 2021 the German eco Grand Prix e.V. will take over the organisation of the races in Germany.

Die Asociatia eco Grand Prix in Bucharest will continue to organise the races outside Germany.

All entry fees will be transferred back 100% next week. You can then go shopping in our shop ;)

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

We have filled the eco Grand Prix Shop with gifts, which will be delivered to all costumers in December. Calendars, mugs, caps, license plate holders, helmets,... everything that makes the heart of an ecoGP fan beat faster.
